

Filled Example: AI Website Or App

Purpose: Show how the Solo Builder AI Launch Kit can look for a realistic AI-powered website or app.

When To Use It

Use this example when your project is a website, no-code app, lightweight SaaS feature, wrapper, or user-facing AI tool.

How To Read It

This is fictional. Copy the level of detail, not the exact facts. Your project may need different disclosures, review steps, or qualified help.

Example Project

Project: LaunchPad Copy Lab

Scenario: A solo builder launches a paid web app that helps small creators draft first-pass landing-page copy from a short intake form.

The app is not intended to provide legal, financial, medical, tax, or professional advice. It drafts marketing copy ideas that users review and edit before publishing.

AI Project Snapshot Excerpt

| Field                   | Example answer                                                                                                                  |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Project name            | LaunchPad Copy Lab                                                                                                              |
| Public offer name       | LaunchPad Copy Lab beta                                                                                                         |
| Owner                   | Mira Lane Studio                                                                                                                |
| Date                    | 2026-06-08                                                                                                                      |
| Stage                   | Private beta moving toward paid product                                                                                         |
| What the project does   | Creates first-pass landing-page headlines, feature bullets, and FAQ copy from a short product intake form.                      |
| Who uses it             | Solo creators, indie hackers, and small service providers drafting marketing copy.                                              |
| Who pays for it         | Users pay a monthly subscription after beta.                                                                                    |
| Main customer promise   | Help users get from blank page to reviewable copy faster.                                                                       |
| Where AI is used        | AI generates draft copy from user-provided product details.                                                                     |
| AI model/vendor/tool    | Hosted text-generation API; model version to be recorded before paid launch.                                                    |
| Inputs used by AI       | Product name, audience, offer description, tone, optional existing copy.                                                        |
| Outputs produced        | Draft headlines, subheads, bullets, FAQ answers, and call-to-action ideas.                                                      |
| Human review points     | Users review and edit generated copy before publishing. Owner reviews support complaints and sample outputs weekly during beta. |
| What the AI does not do | It does not publish copy automatically, verify legal terms, verify claims, or promise conversion improvements.                  |
| User data involved      | Product names, descriptions, audience notes, pricing notes, and optional website copy pasted by the user.                       |
| Public claims made      | Draft first-pass landing-page copy faster; get structured copy options to review; not a conversion guarantee.                   |
| Main risks or unknowns  | Users may overstate generated claims; AI could invent product benefits; vendor data-use setting needs final check.              |
| Next review date        | Two weeks after first paid users onboard.                                                                                       |

Claims Checklist Excerpt

| Original claim                               | Concern                           | Evidence or basis           | Safer rewrite                              | Where updated | Publish decision    | Date       |
|----------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------|--------------------------------------------|---------------|---------------------|------------|
| AI that writes high-converting landing pages | Implies business outcome and full | No conversion evidence yet. | Draft first-pass landing-page copy you can | Homepage hero | Publish after edits | 2026-06-08 |

|                                            |                                                          |                                          |                                                                         |                |                     |            |
|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------|---------------------|------------|
| for you.                                   | automation.                                              |                                          | review, edit, and test.                                                 |                |                     |            |
| Generate compliant launch copy in minutes. | Implies a compliance result.                             | No legal or regulatory review.           | Generate a practical first draft, then review claims before publishing. | Product page   | Publish after edits | 2026-06-08 |
| Never stare at a blank page again.         | Absolute wording; low practical risk but easy to soften. | Product creates structured first drafts. | Start with structured draft options instead of a blank page.            | Email sequence | Publish after edits | 2026-06-08 |

User Data And Privacy Intake Excerpt

| Question                                     | Example answer                                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| What data is collected directly from users?  | Email, account login, product name, audience, offer details, website copy pasted into the form, generated outputs.                                                   |
| What data is pasted into prompts?            | Product details and requested tone. Users are instructed not to submit private, sensitive, confidential, regulated, credential, payment, or client-only information. |
| What data is sent to third-party AI vendors? | Intake form fields and copy-generation instructions.                                                                                                                 |
| Are logs retained?                           | App stores generated copy and intake history for the user's account until deleted. Vendor prompt-log setting still needs final review.                               |
| Are users told AI is involved?               | Yes, in onboarding, the FAQ, and near the generation button.                                                                                                         |
| What should users not submit?                | Customer lists, private client details, health/legal/financial facts, passwords, API keys, or unsupported product claims.                                            |

Disclosure Draft

This app uses AI to draft first-pass marketing copy from the product details you provide. The output may be incomplete, inaccurate, generic, or unsuitable for your specific offer. Review and edit all copy before publishing it.

Do not submit private, sensitive, confidential, regulated, credential, payment, or client-only information unless you are sure you have permission and the data is appropriate for this workflow.

This tool does not provide legal, financial, tax, or professional advice, and it does not promise business results.

To report incorrect, confusing, or unexpected output, contact [your support email or contact form] with the prompt, output, and a short description of the issue.

Red Flag Triage Excerpt

| Category                             | Applies? | Notes                                                                                                             | Next step                                                  |
|--------------------------------------|----------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| Financial, tax, credit, or insurance | Unsure   | Users may write price or revenue claims into copy, but tool does not advise investments, tax, credit, or finance. | Add claim-review reminder for earnings and revenue claims. |
| Legal                                | Unsure   | Users may ask for privacy, terms, refund, or policy copy.                                                         | Add product limit: not for legal terms or legal advice.    |
| Sensitive personal data              | Possible | Users could paste customer testimonials, client notes, or private business details.                               | Add do-not-submit instruction and review vendor settings.  |
| Automated decisions                  | No       | Tool drafts copy only. Users decide what to publish.                                                              | Document user review in disclosure and FAQ.                |

Triage decision: Yellow. Continue with beta after vendor setting check, do-not-submit warning, and FAQ update.

Customer FAQ Excerpt

Do you use AI?

Yes. LaunchPad Copy Lab uses AI to draft landing-page copy ideas from the product details you provide.

Can I publish the output as-is?

You should review and edit the output before publishing it. AI can miss context, invent details, or suggest claims that do not fit your product.

What data does the AI process?

It processes the product details and tone instructions you enter. Do not submit private customer data, client confidential material, regulated information, passwords, API keys, payment details, or facts you cannot support.

What should I not use this for?

Do not use it to create legal terms, professional advice, regulated claims, guaranteed earnings claims, or copy for products you cannot accurately describe or support.

Pre-Launch Checklist Excerpt

- ☒ Project basics documented.
- ☒ Claims reviewed and two launch claims rewritten.
- ☒ Data flow reviewed at a practical level.
- ☒ AI-use disclosure drafted.
- ☒ Customer FAQ drafted.
- ☒ Report-a-problem path drafted.
- ☒ Incident log created.
- ☒ Change log created.
- ☐ Vendor data-use and retention settings verified before paid launch.
- ☐ FAQ added to beta onboarding.
- ☐ In-product do-not-submit warning added near intake form.

Final launch decision: Private beta only after vendor setting check, FAQ update, and in-product data warning. Do not start paid launch until those three items are complete.

Change Log Excerpt

| Date       | Change type         | What changed                                                           | Why it changed                                     | Risk impact | User-facing impact                            | Docs updated                                           | Tested or checked by | Next review |
|------------|---------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|-------------|-----------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------|----------------------|-------------|
| 2026-06-08 | Launch baseline     | Created beta launch record for first-pass landing-page copy generator. | Prepare beta before paid users.                    | Unknown     | AI disclosure and FAQ planned for onboarding. | Snapshot, claims, data intake, triage, disclosure, FAQ | Owner                | 2026-06-22  |
| 2026-06-08 | Public claim change | Rewrote high-converting and compliant-copy claims.                     | Avoid unsupported outcome and compliance language. | Lower       | Homepage and product page copy narrower.      | Claims checklist                                       | Owner                | 2026-06-22  |

Review Carefully If

- The app starts making stronger conversion, revenue, compliance, accuracy, or professional-advice claims.
- Users can upload client files, customer lists, or sensitive data.
- The AI starts publishing copy automatically without user review.

Short boundary: This example is educational information, not legal advice. It shows one practical documentation style, not a legal conclusion about any specific product.